

Weird SCIENCE

We're loving the emerging trend of scientific and medical-inspired homewares. To make sure your interior doesn't look too clinical, opt for wooden furniture with black or white accents.

COMPILED BY SELINA GORDEVICH

1. Pendant lights based on science lab beakers and test tubes, $149.00, Beacon Lighting. 2. Savoy three-tier kitchen trolley in black, $249, Freedom. 3. Infusion vessel in Eucalyptus, $34.95 and in Vitamin, $39.95, Freedom. 4. Contemporary Bunsen oil burner, $90, Cranmore Home. 5. Phrenology ceramic sculpture, $54.95, Amalfi. 6. Mols three drawer desk, $1700, Satara Australia. 7. Watson desk lamp, $730, Boyd Blue. 8. Glass beaker in charcoal, $7.95, Mark Tuckey for Cotton On. 9. Menu wire bin designed by Norm Architects, $124.95, Stem. 10. Anodine Vessel in navy, $34.95 and white, $26.99, Freedom. 11. Beaker, $12.95, Rogue. 12. Letterpress printed periodic table greeting card, Paper Elephant.